WIFE DENIES ALL DIVORCE CHARGES

Hearing of Millington Litigation Is Postponed—Man and Wife Under Bond.

A large crowd of spectators, witnesses and friends of both parties were disappointed Tuesday when Chancellor P. H. Helicki postponed the hearing of the divorce suit of Fred F. Millington against his wife, Mary Millington. The court was to have heard the three cases involved, including a writ of habeas corpus filed by Millington to get possession of his 5-year-old son; a suit for divorce filed by him against his wife, and an answer and cross bill filed by Mrs. Millington.

Declaring that during the period of their married life she has sought to make her husband and their boy happy in their little home and has sought the development of thoughts that would stretch the heart strings into pure love so that happiness alone would be the product of their union, Mrs. Mary Harington Millington filed an answer and cross bill to her husband's divorce suit in chancery court Monday afternoon. She asks for a divorce and custody of their 5-year-old son, Ralph Davis, filed the bill for Mrs. Millington.

Mrs. Millington denied every allegation in Millington's bill. She said that it was untrue that she has been unfaithful to him; that it was untrue that she was ever caught in the apartments of Jack Harris or that Jack Harris was ever caught with her in her own apartment. She also denies that she and J.

P. J. Bruce were caught violently hugging and kissing each other in an unfrequented road in Riverside park on July 13, 1919.

In her cross bill in which she now seeks a divorce, Mrs. Millington declares that her husband abandoned her and their child in February, 1918, and that it was not she who abandoned him. She denies she made life unbearable for him and forced him to leave their apartment or was cruel to him, she says her husband works for the Boyer Milling company at a salary of $100 a month, but gets much more than this, as he receives a commission on his sales.

She denies that on Oct. 5, 1918, while her husband was ill with influenza, she pressed a hot iron to his hip and caused him great pain and left a permanent scar. She also says on no occasion did she scratch or claw her husband or throw things at him. She denies she ever left her home and remained out all night.

BAPTISTS DON'T WANT DOUGHBOYS TO DANCE

Members of the congregation of the Temple Baptist church, Fifth avenue and Cooper street, at the regular services Sunday morning passed a resolution unanimously condemning the participation of members of the church in the dance which culminated the reception to returned soldiers held at the Peabody public school on the evening of July 31. There were 491 people who voted in favor of the resolution of condemnation representing a constituency of 1,000 people, according to the pastor, Rev. J. Carl McCoy, 2100 Walker avenue.

Dancing is unalterably opposed, according to the tenets of the Baptist faith, the resolution recites, and inasmuch as several of the returned doughboys were members of the Temple Baptist church, and are said to have indulged in the sin of dancing at the party mentioned, the congregation could do nothing less than pass the non-dematary resolution, the pastor says.

Admiration and devotion to the boys who represent thrift and development for country is voiced in the resolution, but dancing is unalterably opposed as a degrading pastime unworthy of participation in by men who fought for such lofty ideals.

Bolton Citizens and Chancellor Unable to Agree on Present and Future Trustees.

The committee of 60 Bolton citizens who last week requested Chancellor Helicki to remove the entire board of Bolton college and appoint the members of the county high school board and the chairman of the county court as the board of trustees of the college, are now threatening to go into the courts with charges against the present board if the chancellor does not act.

Charles Perry, speaking for the committee, said Tuesday that he would decide the matter Tuesday. Tuesday the chancellor told them that he would agree to remove the entire board with the exception of C. H. Hanson, the secretary and Judge J. P. Young, treasurer, he says.

Hanson, according to Perry and the committee, is the man they want off the board and they propose to take every legal step possible to have him removed.

The committee says that the board has had charge of Bolton college for the past 10 years and have spent several thousand dollars without making a creditable showing. They declare the board took $1,000 of the county of $60,000 to cover $14,000 of debts which they had contracted not still failed to make the school go.

Chancellor Helicki refused to make a statement Tuesday, merely saying nothing had been done as yet regarding the removal of the board, or the naming of a new board.

It is understood a majority of the old board are now ready to resign. The present board is composed of the following: George K. James, chairman; Charles J. Hanson, vice-chairman; C. H. Hanson, secretary; Judge J. P. Young, treasurer; James H. Malone, T. J. McDaniel, Ford N. Taylor, Miss Williams, O. Williams, Cyrus Gurnsey, Jr., and C. P. J. Moore. Miss Williams and Mr. Taylor being members of the county high school board. Other members of the high school board, which the Bolton committee wants removed, are Walter Calla, Charles Dean, Marvin Thompson, W. A. Johnson, R. F. Malone and Eugene Woods, all members of the county high school board and James Heard, chairman of the county court.

LIEUT. PARKER, VETERAN, TO RE-ENTER CIVIL LIFE

Fresh from the battlefields of France where he won distinction in the fighting at Chateau Thierry and in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, Lieut. William S. Parker, one of the last members of the Second Tennessee to return, has arrived in Memphis, and after a short rest will again take up the duties of a civilian. He will in all probability again become a salesman for the H. H. White Automobile company, which position he held when he enlisted.

Lieut. Parker left Memphis a private and went to Camp Sevier with old Company M, commanded by Capt. William S. Parker. He was promoted to sergeant and later a sergeant. When the Second Tennessee was broken up, he became a salesman for the H. H. White Automobile company.

He won his lieutenant's stripes overseas and was assigned to the Fourth division of Company G, 50th infantry, in time to see service in the thrilling battles which ended the war.

During the Meuse-Argonne fighting Lieut. Parker was injured by a piece of high explosive shell and for a time his life was despaired of, but he recovered after the armistice had been signed and was assigned to the Second army corps at Toul where he remained until ordered home, arriving in America July 12. He was mustered out at Camp Gordon, Ga., a few days ago.

Activities Among Memphis Negroes

BY REV. T. O. FULLER.

The success of our educational, religious and business activities in Memphis depends upon the maintenance of the spirit of friendliness and co-operation between the races. Let all of us who represent thrift and development for country keep busy along lines of conciliation and construction.

Elaborate preparation is being made for the celebration of the 30th anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. W. J. McMichael at the St. John Baptist church on the fifth Sunday in August. The Rev. W. S. Eubank, of Nashville, has been selected to preach the anniversary sermon.

It is rumored that a new bank will be organized in Memphis. The information is not definite.

Bible bands all over the city held important meetings Monday afternoon. Dean V. W. Broughton and Mrs. W. A. Townsend attended a number of them.

The B. Y. P. U. conquest board met in regular monthly meeting at Howe Monday night. William G. Walker presided.

The Friendship Baptist association holds its annual session this week near Cordova, Tenn. Rev. R. Branch is moderator. Some of the largest Memphis churches belong to that association.

There will be a sacred concert at the First Baptist church, St. Paul avenue, Sunday night.

An inter-racial conference is being held at Columbia, S. C., which is participated in by the leaders of both races. Among the things discussed are housing conditions, schools, conveniences of travel, police protection and general racial equality. The governor of the state is lending his presence and influence. "We need to know each other better. We need to meet face to face occasionally," was said by one of the speakers.

Everything should be done to quiet the agitation among the laboring classes. Good wages, kind and fair treatment, and regular employment should satisfy labor. Serious trouble some times comes through a very small door. Shut it out!

The high cost of living can be reduced by rigid economy. Most of us eat too much and dress beyond reason.

We should seek the universal distribution of comforts. Too many live in fine mansions with no regard for the comforts of the average man. Too many expensive churches are erected, leaving nothing for missions, charity and the relief of suffering humanity.

Some of our workers should go to the courts and carry a message of hope to those who are confined there.

MRS. MARY HOWELL SAID TO BE SANE

Averring that Mrs. Mary Howell is perfectly sane and capable of knowing what she is about, Edward W. Smith, her guardian for the suit, late Monday filed answer in chancery court to the bill of W. C. Elchberg and others charging that the aged woman was of unsound mind and that her mind had been poisoned against the rest of her relatives by Charles Elchberg. All charges in the bill are denied.

It is alleged in the answer that Charles Elchberg has looked after and cared for her while the other brothers have failed so to do; that the only transfer of property ever made to Charles Elchberg was for a valid consideration, and that she is not living in a singular and being neglected, but in reality is living in comfort and in sanitary quarters.

BIDS FOR LITTLE ROCK BRIDGES ARE TOO HIGH

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 5 (Sp.).—All bids for construction of the two proposed bridges across the Arkansas river here were held up by the commission when it was found that the lowest bid submitted by a local firm was far in excess of all estimated cost. The lowest bid was $2,172,945. It was originally estimated that the two bridges could be built for less than $1,000,000, but war prices caused a revision of the estimates sending them up to $1,500,000. This estimate was $200,000 under the lowest bid submitted today.
